“ Tio Edwin, Life on this earth was cut short for you at such a young age. You loved life and many times you expressed to me your concerns about what it means to no longer have life or as you would say "scared to die"! I always shared with you to be absent in body for the believer is to be present with God! I know your life here ended and began in Heaven! #Heavens4believers

Edwin you were my good and trusted friend when we worked together at Sam's Club. How could we ever forget those crazy days! You always said I was laughing at you--how could anyone not laugh and be happy in your company, you brought your sunny disposition and your sincerity into that miserable job, and whenever anyone mentioned your name it was always with a smile. I remember you hiding out from me, because you knew I'd be so mad with you if you ate all that junk food in the bakery! You are a very great guy Edwin with a very great spirit--you could keep a secret like nobody else. I miss your face and your presence on this earth, but we will meet again and laugh together and share the same views just like before...

“ Edwin (babe) we always had such good times together especially with u hiding the donuts from me so u didnt get yelled at lol.. U where suppose to move in with me this summer. I will always remember our good times and u always treating my daughter like ur own she called u dad.. I will cherish the ring for the rest of my life and wish i had ur last name but u wanted to wait till u moved in. I love u babe always and forever. As ur nick name to me grasshopper. Love u ur girl Tina Pagan
